TAFT IS GIVEN FORTY MORE

COMMITTEE DECIDES ALL CONTESTS IN FAVOR OF PRESIDENT'S FOLLOWERS.

Chicago, Ill., June 12.—President Taft gained forty more votes in the republican national convention today through the settlement of contest cases by the national committee.

It was a day of Taft victories exclusively. In the cases of the California, Arizona and Michigan contests, the Roosevelt forces made a fight and voted their full strength against the Taft delegates. In the California case they secured a roll call, losing 16 to 37. In the Arizona contest they failed to get a roll call and in the Michigan cases none was asked, although they voted against seating the Taft delegates at large.

The contest settled today in favor of President Taft were: Arizona delegates at large, 6; California, Fourth District, 2; Louisiana, delegates at large, 6; First, Second, Third, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh Districts, 14; Michigan delegates at large, 6; Mississippi, delegates at large, 4; First District, 2. Total 40.

Pearl Wight, National committee-man from Louisiana, and the Roosevelt leader there, lost in his fight to seat the Roosevelt delegates from that state. An effort was made by Committeeman Harry S. New to end the long-standing difficulties among Louisiana Republicans by officially recognizing the Loisel faction, now controlling the state republican organization there, but Mr. Wight headed off such action.

A Governor Among Losers.
Gov. Charles E. Osborn of Michigan and his Roosevelt delegates at large were uneaten by the decision of the Michigan case for Taft.

The contest over the Fourth California District, decided for President Taft, furnished the most bitter exchanges of the day. Francis J. Heney, leading the Roosevelt forces, insisted upon recognition for the Roosevelt delegates there.

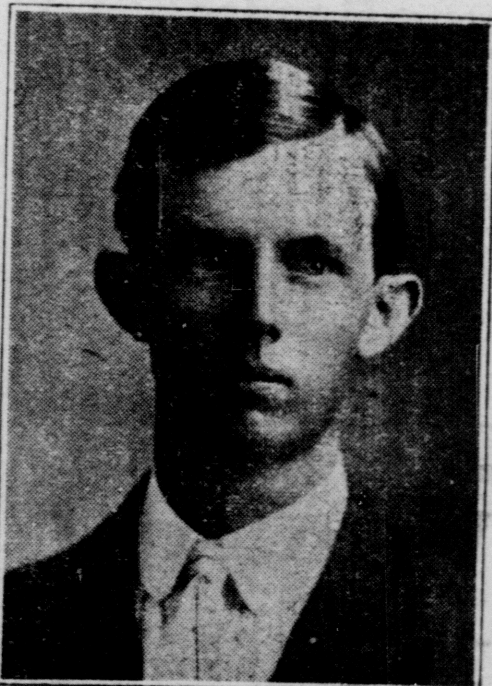

The National committee had before it when it adjourned tonight 112 contested seats still to pass upon.

Chairman Victor Rosewater, in a statement at the end of the session, said the committee was not keeping pace with the work of the last convention. In 1908 but eighty-eight contests remained to be decided on the Wednesday night preceding the convention. Members of the committee fear that the contests will run well over into the opening day of the National convention.

The remainder of the Mississippi contests and those from the states of Missouri, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee will, it is believed, be disposed of tomorrow.

SMITH'S

A GREAT BIBLE SCHOOL SESSION

The Christian Convention Stresses the "Teaching Service of the Church."

Bible School Supt. Gilliam of Oklahoma City has been holding conferences every morning, but yesterday afternoon's session was wholly given to this work.

This report showed much improvement for the past year, and pointed out proposed improvements for the coming year.

The Front Rank Symposium was splendidly handled. This church believes that the child as well as the adult should have as good a chance to learn the Bible as they do the day school text books, and while the schools have not reached this goal as yet, they are hastening the day. To be Front Rank requires, 1st, a workers' conference with a prepared and studied program. 2nd, a teacher-training class; 3rd, graded schools and graded lessons, according to the International Interdenominational standard; 4th, use of the Bible in classes by pupils; 5th, organized adult Bible classes; 6th, use of the weekly missionary prayer circle topics and at least a monthly program; 7th, evangelization.

Only two schools in the state reached a satisfactory basis in the Front Rank propaganda and these, Guthrie and Pryor, were awarded the pennant.

The Teacher Training "spell down" was absorbingly interesting. Two schools, Oklahoma City and Pryor entered teams. They were so well drilled that the only way Mrs. Gilliam could hope to end the spell down was by combination questions. Mr. T. S. Stauffer, agent for the M. K. & T. at Pryor was successful in standing the longest, and the Gilliam Cup was awarded to H. A. Pearce, teacher of the Pryor class. This cup will be returned to the convention next year and again competed for.

Mrs. Dawes of Blackell gave some of the great messages of the day. Her enthusiasm and good common sense is contagious and one could not sit at her feet long without imbibing some of both of these good qualities. The evening session in which I. N. McCash, National Secretary of the A. C. M. S. gave a national convention address, so great and inspiring it was.

Hackleman was not cut out of the musical service and the great audience appreciated the good music.

This was followed by J. G. McGavran, formerly a missionary to India, now of Tulsa, whose powerful message was inspiring to all.

The devotional services by Bicknell of Holdenville justified the committee's estimate of him in the desire to make a spiritual service of the convention.

Brotherhood and Bible School Banquet
It was a live and large gathering which met at the Palace Cafe for the annual banquet conducted at Palace Cafe for the annual banquet conducted at the state convention. Plates were spread for some 150. Speeches of practical nature and incidents and experiences showing the value of systematic work were given.

HALF CENTURY ROMANCE ENDS IN MARRIAGE

This morning a romance which had its beginning half a century ago was consummated when Justice Brown pronounced as man and wife J. Y. Hord of Waco, North Carolina, and Mrs. E. J. Cathoun of Sulphur. The groom is 72 years of age and the bride eight years his junior. They were sweethearts in their early youth, but circumstances separated them, and each married later. Both lost their helpmates by death, however, and it was only recently that they learned of each other's whereabouts and began a correspondence. This resulted in an engagement and the marriage of this morning.

The couple left this afternoon for their future home in North Carolina.

State Campaign in Maine.

Augusta, Me., June 13.—Though the date for Maine's first State-wide primaries is but four days distant, the campaign is attracting comparatively little attention. The only contests that have aroused any public interest are those for the republican nominations for governor and United States senator, for each of which there are three candidates in the field. On the democratic side there is no opposition to the renomination of Governor Frederick W. Plaisted and Senator Obadiah Gardner.

The men seeking the republican nomination for governor are Frederick E. Boothby of Portland, Albert H. Shaw of Bath and William T. Haines of Waterville. Those desiring the republican nomination for United States senator are former Congressman Edwin C. Burleigh of Augusta, Judge Frederick A. Powers of Houlton and Herbert M. Heath of Augusta.

Dante's Inferno Was Grand.

Of all high class attractions in a moving picture show, Dante's Inferno, at the Majestic last evening is easily the superior. The makers of the film were fully imbued with the spirit of the great poet and his production an every detail was presented in a manner true to the description. Much of the picture was staged at the volcano of Vesuvius, where just the conditions needed prevail and could be utilized. Not only is the picture a delight to all admirers of Dante, but it contains many strong sermons as well.

Crusade of Jerusalem, the greatest motion picture of today will be shown at the Lyric Airdome Friday and Saturday nights.

FOUR-FIFTHS OF AN INCH OF RAIN

The threatened drouth was broken last night by a good rain, which according to Mr. Crevelings' government rain gauge, amounted to 79-100 of an inch, or practically 4-5 of an inch. A phone message from Maxwell states that about the same amount fell there. For a time the wind blew with some violence, but it did little damage.

YOKUM AND GOOD ROADS.

B. F. Yokum of the Frisco road is developing a great and deserved reputation as a bright writer on practical subjects.

His style is crisp as becomes a business man, his ideas are broad, his information very great.

His recent article in Leslie's Weekly attracted much attention, but his regular bulletins, although less carefully prepared perhaps, are quite up to his high water mark. In his Leslie's article he made a great hit with his remark, "We have quit the politician and taken up the farmer." Among the stinging facts stated by Mr. Yokum are these: the farmer gets 46 cents for his products and the consumer pays a dollar for them; it costs $55,000 to make a twelve-inch gun, that amount of money would reclaim 4,500 acres of swamp land and afford homes for 500 people; to aid good farm roads the government of the United States provides $100,000 a year and builds two or four battle ships at a cost of $12,000,000 or more.

The latest work of Mr. Yokum is in the interest of good roads, and he has equipped a train on the Frisco for special instruction in the art.

The good roads train started from Brownsville, Tex., the southern terminus of that road, and it is moving north.

The train is in charge of H. C. Wells, superintendent construction, Bureau of Good Roads, United States Department of Agriculture, and H. S. Fairbanks, representing the National Association of Good Roads. Mr. S. A. Hughes, general immigration agent of the Frisco, is also accompanying the train as representative of the Frisco.

We have heard much of good roads for years past but it has made little impression upon the people, at least it has been as so much seed sown but not yet germinated. Mr. Yokum is likely to produce more real results.

When he speaks on good roads his words are forcible and true. For example he says:

"The greatest value of good roads will be to the farmers who have not become interested yet," said Mr. B. F. Yokum recently in one of his speeches upon the subject. "They need to be shown that the poorest roads are the most expensive roads. They must be shown that their broken wagons, broken harness and blacksmith bills cost them more than the cost of having good roads. They have not been shown that a $4.00 a day team can do twice the work over good roads that they can over bad roads—which makes that team worth twice as much or $8.00 a day."

"The man with a good road with distance against him, can make his trips quicker and can carry from two to three times as much on his wagon. And more important he can depend upon his road and bridges every day in the year; while the man who encounters swollen streams and impassable roads often loses his best market and his products decay on his hands."

"If a railroad encounters a high grade over a hill, which means excessive use of coal, slow trains and light loads, the railroad cuts down the heavy grades to save coal bills, to move freight faster and to carry bigger train loads. In the same way when the farmers will cut down the grades of their roads and get smooth surfaces and provide good drainage, they can haul far bigger loads in far less time; they can save on blacksmith bills and harness bills and make one team do the work that required two before."

"Good roads add greatly to the profits and comforts of the farmers, but knowing so and saying so do not produce good roads—they will have to be made. All talk and no work will not make roads good. Go at road improvement with the same determination you would dig ditches or build fences with a full realization that it is for your own personal benefit and profit and not merely a public duty."

"It is to good roads that this country must look largely for its future growth and development."—Oklahoma City Times.

TASTE, SMELL AND HEARING RESTORED

A Simple, Harmless Remedy Quickly Relieves Catarrhal Deafness.

The thousands who suffer the miseries of colds and catarrh and claim they have never found a cure can get instant relief by simply anointing the nostrils with Ely's Cream Balm.

Unlike internal mixtures which upset the stomach, or strong snuffs which only aggravate the trouble, this cleansing, healing, antiseptic balm instantly reaches the seat of the trouble, stops the nasty discharge, clears the nose, head and throat and brings back the sense of taste, smell and hearing. More than this, it strengthens the weakened and diseased tissues, thus protecting you against a return of the trouble.

Nasal catarrh is an inflammation of the membrane lining the air passages, and cannot be reached by mixtures taken into the stomach, nor can it be cured by snuffs and powders which only cause additional irritation. Don't waste time on them. Get a 50-cent bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist, and after using it for a day you will wish you had tried it sooner. Special agents, Gwin & Mays Drug Company.

"The Hardware Man"

Roosevelt and his lieutenants have evolved a new scheme to beat Taft. It is nothing more than a bolt in the electoral college in states where the electors are Roosevelt men. This would inevitably result in throwing the election of president to the house, if the democrats failed to control a majority in the college, and in that case the election of a democratic president would follow swiftly. When the constitution was written election by popular vote was not thought of. It was the design of the framers of that instrument to place the choice of the two highest offices in the hands of a body of men chosen with special reference to their ability to elect the best men. For many years the electors were chosen by the legislatures of the respective states but when party lines were closely drawn the people demanded the right to choose the electors, and since then they have been mere figureheads carrying out the will of the parties electing them. Legally an elector may vote for whom he pleases, but in practice none ever bolted his party's nominations. It is very doubtful if Teddy can induce any to bolt now, even though the battle is hotly fought. In fact, there is little doubt about the democrats winning the battle anyway, in which case the threatened bolt would not be necessary.

TEDDY SAYS HE FAVORS WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 12.—Theodore Roosevelt announced this afternoon, through Judge Ben B. Lindsay of Denver, that he is in favor of woman suffrage in this country and that the platform which he will submit to the Chicago convention will contain an unequivocal declaration to that effect.

Heretofore Col. Roosevelt has merely said that he believed the question of woman suffrage should be submitted the women themselves for determination.

This evening the DeSota will present the great masterpiece of the moving picture art, "The Sewer." This is a picture that will entertain all classes. The Ducking Stool.

One of the wise old customs practiced by our English and New England forefathers was the employment of the ducking stool. When people became obstreperously opinionated, or slanderous, or too free in criticizing the community, they were taken to the water's brink and publicly ducked. Nearly every town had its ducking stool, and it undoubtedly exercised a wholesome influence in the community.

This form of punishment has been deprecated by later generations on the score of cruelty; but where the cruelty comes in it is hard to see. From the physical standpoint the ducking stool method of punishment could have been little more than uncomfortable, and mentally it was less severe than many forms of refined torture employed in modern criminal procedure. Whether cruel or not, it was very effective and admirably adapted to "make the punishment fit the crime." The person who is "and in voicing contrary opinions is generally making a bid for public notice and it is quite fitting that such notice should be accorded him via the ducking stool."

Today we have no ducking stool. Possibly that is why we have so many fault-finders. For when society dropped the ducking stool it also dropped some of its healthy intolerance of such individuals. We can not revive the ducking stool, but we can and should revive that ancient and honorable disgust for the fault-finder, the "knocker," the muck-raker, the antisocial critic. They are a stumbling block to progress and should be kicked ruthlessly out of the way.—American Lumberman.

MRS. N. B. SHANDS DIES AT DALLAS

News came yesterday afternoon of the death of Mrs. N. B. Shands at Dallas. Her death occurred at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. It is stated that the remains will be interred at Forney, Tex., the old home of the deceased.

Mrs. Shands had been a resident of Ada for a number of years. She was a lady of culture and refinement who made friends of all who knew her. She was a devoted wife and mother and her loss is keenly felt by her husband and children, and deeply deplored by her large circle of Ada friends.

The News extends its sympathy to the bereaved family in their loss.

Congratulations and Thanks.

Through the courtesy of the Evening News, I desire to thank my friends and supporters for the heavy vote they gave me for Mayor on last Tuesday. I have lived in Ada many years, and expect to always live here and thus have a deep-founded interest in my city, and each of her citizens. Their interests are my interests; and had I been elected, I think no one would ever have cause to say I didn't give Ada a good business administration.

I desire also, to congratulate my successful opponent on his victory, and trust his administration will save the city many dollars.

Very respectfully,
GEO. V. WEST.

Historic Blackguards

By Albert Payson Terhune

Capt. Kidd—"Sheep or Wolf?"

ASK the average person to name some famous pirate. The chances are two to one that he will say, "Captain Kidd." As a matter of fact, Kidd was a very third rate sort of pirate, not to be compared in villainy, exploits and wealth to dozens of captains who are today forgotten. A doggerel song ("My Name Was Captain Kidd, as I Sailed") and the foolish belief that he buried vast treasures somewhere near New York are the two things that have made Kidd immortal.

In the latter part of the seventeenth century the American coasts swarmed with pirates who spoiled sea commerce and blocked travel. King William III. of England sent Lord Bellomont to New York as governor, with orders to stamp out piracy. Bellomont liked the idea of combining duty with profit. So, with Robert Livingston and other rich, shrewd New Yorkers, he formed a company to make money out of crushing the pirates. A powerful warship was to be fitted out and sent against the freebooters. They and their plunder were to be seized, and the profits of the enterprise divided between the company and the king.

Next, Bellomont and Livingston looked about for the right sort of man to captain their warship. Livingston suggested a "right worthy and honest mariner," "William Kidd by name. Kidd was the son of a Scotch clergyman who is said to have suffered martyrdom. The "right worthy and honest mariner" had for more than thirty years followed the sea, fighting against England's French foes, thrashing pirates and in many ways proving of use to the colonies. At that time (1696) he had retired and was living quietly in New York.

Kidd was made a shareholder in Bellomont's company, took command of the thirty-gun galley Adventure and set forth on his pirate-chasing task. He bore with him a commission from the king, made out to "our well beloved and trusty William Kidd." After an unimportant capture or two, he vanished. For a time nothing was heard, directly, from him. Then came ugly rumors that shaped themselves into facts.

It seemed that the "well beloved and trusty William Kidd" was doing things that tended to make him neither trusted nor beloved. In short, he and his crew, who had been sent to destroy piracy, had themselves become pirates and were holding up and robbing merchant ships. This news aroused tremendous excitement. Public feeling ran dangerously high. Many people even hinted that Bellomont, Livingston and the rest had secretly formed a piratical company and were only waiting to gather the spoils. Bellomont, thoroughly scared, reported the bad tidings to the king, who received them with horror—real or assumed—and who, in 1698, ordered every British port to be on the lookout for Kidd's capture.

Meanwhile the "well-beloved" Kidd, cruising the Spanish Main, heard of the plan to arrest him. Leaving his large ship near Hayti, he hastened northward in a sloop laden with $70,000 worth of treasure and with a crew of forty. He touched at Oyster Bay, L. I., sent for a New York lawyer and opened negotiations with Bellomont. It is supposed Bellomont sent word that the captain had nothing to fear, for Kidd landed and went on July 1, 1699, to Boston to talk matters over. There Bellomont arrested him and packed him off to England to stand trial. Then the company sent to the pirate sloop and seized the treasure. As Kidd had started out to do such great things the public grew to believe that $70,000 could not represent all his plunder and that he must have buried part of the treasure. There is no reason for thinking so. Yet the rumor has lived for over 200 years.

Kidd, meantime, was placed on trial in England. He denied that he had ever consented to be a pirate and said his crew had bullied him into it. He could not be convicted of piracy, even by a court which for some mysterious reason rushed his trial through with suspicious haste and lack of justice. But he was found guilty of having killed a mutinous sailor named William Moon by hitting him over the head with a bucket. For this crime Kidd was condemned to death. He was hanged on May 24, 1701, with nine of his crew, at Execution Dock, London.

To this day it cannot be definitely known whether Captain Kidd was a harmless old man, threatened into unwilling piracy by a mutinous crew, or whether he was the blackguard accomplice of a band of financiers who used him for their own ends and then disowned him. The haste and injustice of his trial led some to think his speedy execution was needed to hush a pirate scandal that would have involved some of the highest names in England and in the colonies.

Appeal in Akin Bill.

Attorney J. W. Bartholomew, representing Oliver H. Akin, author of the Akin bill seeking to abolish fourteen educational institutions of the state, Wednesday served notice on Secretary of State Ben F. Harrison that an appeal from his decision would be taken in the supreme court. After a hearing that lasted several weeks Secretary Harrison on June 6 held that the bill was bad because fraud had been practiced in securing signatures to the initiative petition. Ten days from that time were allowed in which an appeal could be taken to the secretary's ruling.

Don't Miss It!

A GREAT BIBLE SCHOOL SESSION.

WEDNESDAY MORNING.
Owing to the illness of the State Superintendent, Clay T. Runyan of Kingfisher, J. E. Henshaw of Clinton presided over this period of the convention. The program consisted of a number of addresses relative to the place of C. E. in the church's work interspersed with prayer and song. This was one of the most inspiring and spiritual numbers on the convention program.

The following is the program:
Devotional—Isom Roberts, Oklahoma City.

The Heart of Christian Endeavor—J. G. Engle.

The Quiet Hour—H. F. Reed, Norman.

C. E. PERIOD.

The C. E. as a Soul Winner—L. L. Roberts, Cherokee.

C. E. and Christian Union—W. A. Merrill.

Training Department of Church—J. E. Henshaw, Clinton.

Annual C. E. Report—State Supt. C. E. Runyan, Kingfisher.

Annual Address—G. Lyle Smith, El Reno.

C. E. the Training Department of the Church—J. E. Henshaw, Clinton.

In part the speaker said:

This is an age of practical things, the day of the dreamer is passing, life is prosaic after all. My theme is a practical one because it deals with the actual service rendered by C. E.

Whether a movement is practical depends upon whether it meets the demands of the ideal creating it. There are two ideals of Christian Endeavor. First that Christians are saved to serve and second that Christians are saved to save.

If Christian Endeavor fulfills her ideals she is the great training school of the Kingdom.

ANNUAL C. E. ADDRESS.

The annual address by G. Lyle Smith of El Reno was one of the best things in the convention. Mr. Smith made the Bible the chief factor in the development of religious life. He emphasized the importance of the C. E. pledge particularly stressing that part relating to spiritual growth. Mr. Smith is among the great preachers of Oklahoma and during the time he spoke, there was not a dull minute.

Closing Session Tonight.

The closing session of the convention will be held this evening. E. E. Elliott, National Secretary of the Brotherhood movement will bring a message of the men's work.

W. E. M. Hackleman will conduct a great chorus service this evening.

For Roosevelt and Glasscock.

Charleston, W. Va., June 13.—The West Virginia delegates to the republican national convention, who will depart from here tomorrow for Chicago, will carry with them a boom for Governor William E. Glasscock for the vice presidential nomination in the event that Theodore Roosevelt is named to head the ticket. The friends of Governor Glasscock believe he is entitled to second place on the ticket from the fact that he is "the original Roosevelt man." On January 18 last, almost two months before the headgear of the famous Rough Rider was tossed into the squared circle, Governor Glasscock issued a public statement in which he declared that a careful canvass of the political situation in West Virginia had convinced him that the people of the state were overwhelmingly for Colonel Roosevelt for the republican presidential nomination, and calling upon the people to elect delegates to Chicago who would vote for his nomination. Furthermore, it is pointed out, the Governor of West Virginia is the only one of the seven governors who prevailed on Roosevelt to be a candidate, who carried his state solid in the contest for delegates.

The Ladies Aid Society of the First Baptist church will give a lemon snow social at Mrs. A. L. Beck's Tuesday evening, June 13. Hours 6 to 10 p. m.

Good Local Roads First.

It seems to me that many of the advocates of better roads, who profess to speak for the farmer, do not have his viewpoint at all. The farmer wants good local roads. He wants a good road to his town and shipping point and to the school house and church and his neighborhood. He is not interested as yet in cross-state highways and automobile routes. His first consideration demands the improvement of the road or roads he must travel and travel often.

In my opinion this means that the well-drained, persistently dragged earth road offers the most practical solution of the good roads problem in Kansas for many years to come.

In those thickly settled districts near the larger cities, where land is more valuable, where an abundance

GOOD NEWS CURES OLD SORES

To every person suffering with an old sore or chronic ulcer, the very best news in this paper is contained in the present article. It is good news because often sap the strength and vitality, and best of all, this permanent cure is in reach of every one.

It is an absolutely true statement to say that every old sore or chronic ulcer exists solely because of bad blood. Outside contaminations or influences may increase the local inflammation, but such things have nothing to do with keeping the place open. It is the infected blood discharging its impurities through a weak spot on the flesh that does this, and the sore will continue, gradually growing worse, until the blood is purified of the exciting cause.

See how nature points to the cause through the symptoms. The inflammation, discharge, discolored flesh, and the fact that external applications never have any curative effect on the sore, show that deep down in the circulation there is a morbid cause which prevents the place from healing. But more convincing proof that bad blood is responsible for old sores, is furnished by the fact that even removing every visible trace of the ulcer by surgical operation does not cure; the sore always returns.

S. S. S. heals old sores because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers; it goes into the circulation and removes the cause from the blood. When the blood has been purified there is no longer any inflammatory or infectious matter to irritate the place and nature causes a natural and certain healing of the ulcer. When S. S. S. has cleansed the circulation and the place is well, it is not a surface cure, not simply a smoothing over of the outward evidence, but it is a perfect and permanent cure, because every vestige of the old cause has been driven out. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, cleansing and invigorating in their nature, and of great tonic value. It is a medicine adapted to persons of any age, and is just as effective with the old as with the young or middle aged. Under the purifying and tonic effects of S. S. S. the system is greatly strengthened and benefited. To hear of S. S. S. has been good news to thousands, it is good news for you.

If you wish any special advice about an old sore or ulcer write for our free book, and ask our medical department to give any instructions you may feel the need of. No charge for the book or advice. S. S. S. is sold at drug stores.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

of rock can be had nearby, and where the county or township will not be overburdened by an outlay of $3,000 a mile, the stone or rock road may be desirable. But I am absolutely convinced that continuous and intelligent road dragging is the cheapest, simplest, most effective method we have as yet of improving Kansas roads and the best means we have for enlisting public sentiment in behalf of road improvement.

Few of us I believe appreciate the wastefulness of our present system. It is probable that more money is wasted in the building of roads than in all the other forms of public work. It is wasted almost entirely through misdirected and unskilled effort, through work in the wrong places, or at the wrong time, through the improper use of both good and bad tools and our universal lack of system in both construction and maintenance. Undoubtedly we have too many inexperienced, incompetent, inefficient subordinate road officials.

It should be our first care to provide good roads at a minimum of expense for the farmer's team. That is the most important end of our good roads problem at the present time and one not beyond our means or powers of achievement.

ARTHUR CAPPER, Editor Mail and Breeze.
